Mount Olive Public Library Presents:

Halloween: A Haunted History

Why do we carve pumpkins at Halloween, dress up in costumes, or decorate our homes with skeletons and ghosts? Join author and photographer, Kevin Woyce, for a 60-minute presentation and slideshow to find out the answers. This colorful program traces the strange history of Halloween, from Old Word harvest festivals to our modern family holiday. Along the way, Kevin will discuss the origins of the Jack o’Lantern, Orson Welles’ 1938 “War of the Worlds” radio broadcast, the first monster movies, famous costume makers and much more. This hour-long slideshow is illustrated with original photographs and Halloween cards, advertisements, artwork and movie posters.

Thursday, October 6, 2022 from 6:15-7:15pm in our Gathering Room
